Fiducia Group Cookies Policy

Cookies

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files placed on your computer to collect standard Internet log information and visitor behaviour information. When you visit our websites, we may collect information from you automatically through cookies or similar technology.

How do we use cookies?

Our Company uses cookies in a range of ways to improve your experience on our website, including:

- Keeping you signed in

- Understanding how you use our website

What types of cookies do we use?

There are a number of different types of cookies, however, our website uses:

Functionality – Our Company uses these cookies so that we recognise you on our website and remember your previously selected preferences. These could include what language you prefer and location you are in. A mix of first-party and third-party cookies are used.

Performance – These cookies collect information about how visitors use a website, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages. These cookies don't collect information that identifies a visitor.

How to manage cookies

You can set your browser not to accept cookies, and the above website tells you how to remove cookies from your browser. However, in a few cases, some of our website features may not function as a result.

Cookies

A cookie is a small piece of information that is placed on your computer when you visit certain websites.

We use cookies to:

1. Remember you when you visit this website to keep track of your browsing patterns and to build up a profile of how you and other users use the website.
2. Make our website work as efficiently as possible.
3. Administer services to you and to advertisers.

Most browsers allow you to turn off cookies.

To do this look at the help menu on your browser. Switching off cookies may restrict your use of the website and/or delay or affect the way in which it operates.

Use of cookies

The Fiducia Group site uses cookies. These cookies hold no personal information whatsoever and are destroyed upon leaving the website. You are free to turn cookies off in your browser, but please be aware that in doing so, you will not be able to access sites within certain sections.
